The Newest Teeth Cleaning Method and a New Eye Candy The first time I heard of the Dolphin method was when I had a tooth that would not stay clean. After I had cleaned the tooth and left the office, the tooth began to bleed. The bleeding stopped when I spit, which suggested that I had weakened the tooth. Later, the tooth broke off at the gum line. After that I have been pretty skeptical about the Dolphin method of cleaning teeth. The Dolphin method of teeth cleaning involves no toothpicks, no tips, no putting pressure on the tooth, and no using the edges of your fingers to clean teeth. The method is based on the premise that you clean the surface and not the pulp. The best way to clean teeth is to brush the surface. Unfortunately, it takes about an hour to brush the surfaces of all of your teeth, so you are left with little time to clean the deeper canals and crevices. The Dolphin method utilizes a small, round tip, which is introduced into the canals and crevices in your teeth. Once the tip is inserted, pulsing air is directed onto the tip. This cleans and kills the bacteria. This is a new method that makes teeth cleaning a fun activity, because the dentist is acting like a kid and you are the supervising nurse. Once the cleaning is complete, the teeth feel and look great. While the Dolphin method was created to clean teeth, it has been used to clean eyes. It's also been used to clean the ears, sinuses, lungs, and the rectum. You can find information about the Dolphin method on the Dolphin website. I think that the tooth cleaning method will be a useful addition to the dentist's office. I now know that I am not alone in the opinion that teeth cleaning is a necessary evil.
