PDF Index Generator Crack + Free License Key PC/Windows

PDF Index Generator Free Download is a reliable and easy to use application destined to help you generate the index of names and words, with the corresponding page number for PDF format books. The easy steps The application can assist you through the process, by simplifying the steps you have to follow. The four stages of the index generating start with the source file identification. PDF Index Generator can scan the document in order to determine the number of pages. Optionally, you can set it to index the special format page numbers, such as Latin numbers as well. The software can index all the pages or just the selected ones. Indexed words The second step consists of indexing the words in the book. You can index all the words or set specific categories and include only certain words. For instance, if you index a science book, you may only add the technical terms to the index. Further, you can view a list of all the indexed words and manage duplicates, create cross-references or merge identical words. You can easily add or remove words form the list, edit their spelling or change their font and size. Additionally, you can import or export word bundles to clipboard or to other programs. Merge and remodel words The word formatting option enables you to modify the selected words: convert small letters to capitalized ones, create name formats from two or more words and append/prepend text. Thus you can easily add prefixes or suffixes to the selected words. Moreover, the software enables you to merge identical words with one click or to increment the page number associated with a certain piece of text. View or export a detailed report of the indexing actions performed by the application.
